MAKE A NOISY ENTRANCE HERE

Indianapolis Rotarians Pass Through Rushville Amid Shrieking of Auto Horns.

ONLY 50 CARS IN THE BUNCH

What Was Lacking in Numbers They Make up For in Noise—Are Met by a Committee.

Indianapolis Rotarians in fifty automobiles passed through here at eleven o'clock this morning enroute to the national convention at Cincinnati. The Rotarians fell down as far as numbers are concerned as they fully expected 200 or more automobiles to make the trip.

But the small crowd did not dampen the spirits of the Rotarians, who made a noisy entrance into the city and down through the business district. No stop was made as had been planned, owing to the fact that they were running a little late and desired to reach Magnesia Springs for dinner.

The crowd went from here to Connersville. No stop was scheduled for Connersville and the party is due to reach Cincinnati this afternoon at four o'clock. The Rotarians were all dressed for the occasion, each wearing a linen coat and bandana handkerchief. Both came in handy as the dust along the highways was thick. The dust was made even worse because the machines traveled close together.

The crowd was led by a "trail blazer" the path-finder car using confetta to guide the followers in order that none would stray from the course. The confetta was used to good advantage at all turns. This car was probably a mile in advance of the others.

A representative delegation of Rushville men met the Rotarians at the west corporation line and guided them through the city. The members expressed their appreciation at this courtesy on the part of the Rushville people.

The visitors attracted considerable attention as they passed through the city. A large crowd was on hand along the route and it was quite a sight to see the machines. It was explained that the failure of the South Bend and Terre Haute delegations to join the Indianapolis crowd accounted for the small number of machines. Many of the Rotarians from these two cities went on to Cincinnati Sunday. The convention opened there last Saturday.

"NEWS" SHOULD NOT BE COLORED

Jas. E. Watson Pleads For Confinement of Editorial Opinions to Editorial Page.

SPEAKS TO CITY EDITORS

Addresses State Association Meeting at Richmond and is Made Honorary Member.

James E. Watson in an address to the City Editors of the state Sunday afternoon in Richmond urged that and private opinions to the editorial columns and not the news columns.

Mr. Watson stated that while he never had any newspaper experience it was his opinion that reporters, editors and others connected with a paper should not "color" articles to suit their private opinions and should tell the truth in the news columns and leave the editorial policy of the paper to the editorial page.

"It is a fundamental principle of this government that the majority shall rule," said Mr. Watson. "In order for this to hold good the people must be informed and if they are to rule intelligently it is necessary that they be informed truthfully. As a general rule I believe that the editor who permits his news stories regarding a man to be 'colored' does not know the man."

Mr. Watson pointed out that the newspapers of today carried news of all kind, from all sources and for this reason the general public was informed, but if the news was not truthful the public was misled and therefore could not rule as they should. "The time has passed," said Mr. Watson, "when a paper can be run for the sole benefit and to simply satisfy the whim of the editor."

He told of the time Vanderbilt had his run-in with the public regarding the railroad. In this the public did take a hand, he said, and it is the same with a newspaper. "How long would a newspaper last," inquired Mr. Watson, "if the editor said 'the public be damned!' It would go to rack and ruin in a short time. In this I believe that the newspapers of today are becoming more and more like a public utility and must cater to what the people want and not what the editor wants."

"I believe in a partisan press. This government is ruled by political parties and in order that the parties be properly informed it is necessary to have the party organs. But by

MUST REGISTER IF YOU MOVED

Indiana Law Requires This Even Though Voter Only Changes Precincts.

CHAIRMEN ARE INSTRUCTED

Booklets Containing Copies of New Statute Are Sent Throughout the State.

Indiana voters who have moved from one precinct to another since the election of 1914 should not lose sight of the fact that they are required to register this year if they expect to vote at the election next November. Both political party state organizations are working on the registration matter and are making plans to see to it that their voters are all registered. Booklets containing copies of the new registration on law are being sent out to the county chairmen all over the state, and instructions are being given in every possible way so that no man should be missed.

The old registration law provided for three registration periods in each year when a general election was to be held. But the legislature changed this cumbersome and expensive law to which the Democrats had pointed with so much pride and joy. It was found that in many precincts the cost of keeping the registration boards in session on the second and third days caused the registration of each voter to cost tremendously, and there was loud complaint from over the state. So the Democratic legislature was compelled to take the chance of making some of the patriots mad because of being deprived of the jobs of sitting on the registration boards and it amended the law.

Under the present system any voter who was legally registered in his precinct for the election of 1914, will not be required to register again this year, unless he now lives in another precinct than the one in which he was registered in 1914. In other words, the registration books and lists are permanent lists, and are open to changes, additions and subtractions of names whenever they are justified.

The registration board meets in each precinct on Monday, the twenty-ninth day before the election. On that day all persons who have moved into a different precinct, all new voters, all who have moved in from other places are required to register.

In cases where county commissioners have changed, divided, consolidated or established any election precincts in such manner as to transfer voters from one precinct to the other, the county auditor and the county chairmen of the two leading political parties shall, prior to registration day, meet and strike off all names of voters whose names appear in the books of the precinct in which they were registered and voted in 1914 and who have been transferred to another precinct, and they shall deliver the names to the registration board of the precincts in which the voters at that time belong.

Unless their attention is called to the matter, many voters who registered and voted two years ago and who have since moved into other precincts are likely to take it for granted that their registration of two years ago still holds good and makes them legal voters. But such is not the case, and it will be up to every individual voter this year to make sure that he is registered in his proper precinct. It is with this end in view that the political party organizations are already at work on the registration proposition.

JUST SIX MILES FROM BORDER

Rushville Boys With Battery B, 30 Miles From Brownsville, Fred Beale, Jr., Writes.

DRINK WATER FROM LAKE

Worst Fight Just Now is With the Mosquitos Which Infest Their Camp in Texas.

Under date of July 12, Fred Beale, Jr., member of Battery B with the Indiana National Guard doing patrol duty on the Mexican border, has written his mother, Mrs. Hattie Beale, describing the trip to Texas, and the condition of the country in which their camp is located.

All other Rushville boys with the National Guard are members of Battery B. The letter follows:

Llano Grande, Texas.

July 12th.

Dear Mother: We arrived here Monday evening at 4 o'clock and this is the first opportunity I have had to write. We left camp at Indianapolis at 8:30 last Thursday night but did not know where we were going until that afternoon. This camp is about 30 miles from Brownsville and just 6 miles from the Mexican border, so you see we are pretty far south, almost 2000 miles from Indianapolis.

The country here is very sparsely settled as practically nothing can be raised, the only vegetation being mosquito trees. They resemble tus. Bunches of beans grow on the mesquite trees. They resemble somewhat our green beans and these with a bulb grown on the cactus chiefly comprise the food of the Mexican Peons. This food would kill an American.

We have not had much intensive heat yet as this is the rainy season and it rains nearly every day. This may last for several weeks and then it may not rain for over a year. Our greatest or worst hardships are fighting mosquitoes and drinking milky water dipped from a lake about 2 1/2 miles from here, but the former will be eliminated with the slacking up of the rain.

I certainly enjoyed the trip as we were treated royally by the people of the various towns we passed through. We had several loads of horses with us and so had to stop 3 hours each day to feed, water, and let them rest, this gives us a chance to have a good time for a while. The people of the towns where we stopped generally had sandwiches and ice water for us, while the girls were crazy to see us and give us their names and addresses.

The mail leaves here once a day at 4 o'clock in the evening so I will have to close this now although I haven't written half what I wanted. In my next letter, will tell you all about our camp life, so hurry and answer this.

I am all tanned up and will look like a negro when I get back.

WAS FOUND NOT GUILTY.

Mrs. Mary Jackson was found not guilty of a charge of assault on Fred Hilligoss in Squire Kratzer's court Saturday afternoon. The charge was filed by Fred Hilligoss, who was fined one dollar and costs last week for assault and battery on Mrs. Jackson.

FIFTEEN DIE IN SOUTHERN FLOOD

Bridges Are Carried Away and Railroad Traffic is Demoralized—Two Trains "Lost."

HUNDREDS ARE INJURED

Southern Railroad Practically Suspends Business—$10,000 Estimated Damage.

(By United Press.)

Asheville, N. C., July 17.—Two Cincinnati bound trains, the California special which left here Saturday night and another which left last night are "lost" as the result of the flood which swept eastern North Carolina with the loss of 15 lives.

All railroad and commercial telegraph lines are down. Many bridges were carried away in the flood and railway traffic is paralyzed.

Danger of a flood and water famines in Asheville caused the city authorities today to seize the food and water supply. Gasoline prices soared to $1 a gallon.

More than 100 persons are homeless. The flood came so suddenly that many had to wade from their homes. Those drowned at Biltmore were caught in the current and swept away.

Washington, July 17.—The southern Railroad practically suspended traffic today south of Washington. Reports continued to pour in, telling of disaster from floods in North and South Carolina. A second bridge of Charlotte division went out at 3 a. m. Trains are unable to proceed beyond Salisbury and no wires are in operation south of that point, Atlanta being reached by way of Chicago and New Orleans.

Ten million dollars worth of property destroyed, five persons known dead, hundreds injured, a missing, railroad traffic and telephone and telegraph communication demoralized, is the known toll of the flood sweeping the Carolinas and Virginia. Meager, disjointed details are drifting into Washington.

FIRST WHEAT YIELD FIFTEEN BUSHELS

Initial Load of 1916 Crop in Rush County Comes From the John C. Humes Farm.

MANY MACHINES START TODAY

The first wheat in the county was threshed Saturday afternoon. The first operations along this line took place on the John C. Humes farm, southeast of the city, and the first load of wheat reached the Winkler Grain company, being brought by James Miller. The wheat tested 59 pounds to the bushel, and while the wheat is not as heavy as in other years, it is of exceptional quality. It averaged fifteen bushels to the acre on a field of ten acres.

Threshing began today in the northern part of the county when operations were started at the Scott Ward farm, near Henderson. T. H. Reed and Son have again opened their elevator at Farmers. Reed is in charge of this elevator. The company that threshed the Humes wheat was on the Elmer Morris farm near Orange today.

RURAL CREDIT BILL IS SIGNED

President Declares Farmers Have Same Opportunity to Get Credit as Others.

BANKS TO BE ESTABLISHED

L. B. Clore of Indiana Said to Have Good Chance to Land Place on Board Created.

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 17.—Accompanying the act with a speech paying tribute to the farmers of the country, President Wilson today signed the rural credits bill. It approves establishment of land mortgage banks to handle long time mortgage loans for farmers.

"The farmers, it seems to me, have sets hitherto a singular position of disadvantage," said the president. "They have not had the same freedom to get credit on their real assets that others have had who were in manufacturing and commercial enterprises. And while they sustained our lives, they did not in the same degree with some others share in the benefits of that life. Therefore, this bill, along with the very liberal provisions of the federal reserve act, puts them on an equality with all others who have genuine assets and makes the great credit of the country available to them."

The president started immediately the task of selecting members of the rural credits board provided in the act. Prominent among the applicants are L. B. Clore of Indiana, and Herbert Quick, West Virginia, and C. B. Kegley of Washington.

The choice of a member which is a practical farmer brought Clore forward, but Clore's selection has been left in doubt because of the failure of Indiana congressmen to present a united front for him. It was understood today they had agreed to drop all differences and support Clore.

Clore backed the Indiana Democratic organization when he made his unsuccessful race for the nomination for governor this year.

OFFICIAL SAYS VILLA IS DEAD

High Authority in Washington Declares His Name is Being Used to Inspire Fear

ARMY WILL RETURN SHORTLY

(By United Press.)

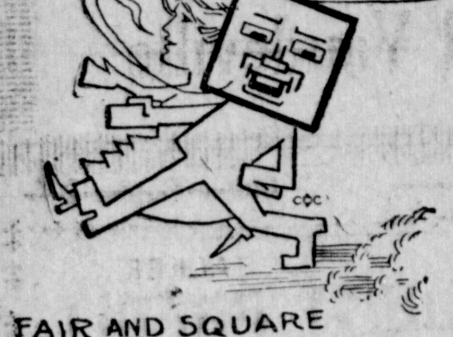

Washington, July 17.—Villa is dead, General Pershing's troops will be out of Mexico within a month and the National guard back within three months, a high war department official said today.

Villa's name is being used by minor leaders to inspire fear among Carranzistas, the official declared. He said Carranza was stronger today in Mexico than he ever has been, principally because he had averted war with the United States, "without loss of dignity by Mexico."

Army men in touch with border and Mexican interior conditions said today there "isn't a chance in a thousand" of further trouble with Mexico, either by repetition of the Parral and Carrizal incidents or by bandit raids.

County News

Glenwood.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Lewark have gone to visit The Goodyear Tire and Rubber factory at Akron, O. They expect to stay there 2 or 3 days, becoming more acquainted with the manufacture of rubber tires. From there they will go to Cleveland and make a short stop with acquaintances, Roy Stafford who is known here as Roy Alzeno. They will go from Cleveland to Buffalo, making a short stay at Buffalo; then to Niagara and from Niagara across to Canada, and from there to Detroit, visiting the Ford factories and other manufactures of interest to garage men.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewark have their new Franklin fully equipped for cooking and camping out. They have a tent which they can erect on each side of the car which gives them ample room for bed and place to cook their food which it is impossible to carry with them. They do not intend to room at any house unless a storm sets in or some other unavoidable circumstance.

Mr. Lewark takes with him all tools necessary to repair most anything which might need repair. The trips is not altogether for pleasure alone.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Peck entertained with a pitchin dinner on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. C. C. Hull gave a very interesting talk at the M. E. church on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock on what he saw and heard while at the general M. E. conference which met at Saratoga Springs, N. Y. He spoke with great hopes of the unity of the M. E. church south and the M. E. church north. It was in session 29 days and was the greatest conference ever held because of the plans formulated for the uniting of the branches and for the reports of all the delegates from foreign countries being affected by the great European war, but two.

The Christians have completed an organization for worship. There were a large attendance at the U. P. church on Sunday evening.

SMALL CHANCE OF BREAK IN HEAT WAVE

Weather Man Predicts Generally
Fair Weather—Thunder Storm
Imminent Late Today.

HOTTEST WEATHER THUS FAR

With a forecast of "generally fair tonight and Tuesday," the weather man held out small hopes for a thunderstorm to break the present siege of high temperatures and torrid atmosphere. Although many persons, thought this the hottest day of the summer, downtown thermometers in the shade registered only ninety-two degrees. Of course, those which were hit by the sun went way above the hundred mark.

Temperature in other cities Sunday were the highest of the season, but there being no official government thermometer here, it is impossible to get accurate temperatures. Many reported that their thermometers went several degrees above ninety yesterday afternoon.

A thunderstorm seemed imminent this afternoon, but the weather man said "generally fair" and most folks have lots of faith in what he says.

OFFENSIVE IS RESUMED

German War Office Says British Penetrated a Wood.

Berlin, July 17.—British troops have penetrated Ovilliers wood in the resumption of the great allied offensive, the war office reported this afternoon.

South of the Somme, lively fighting is going on between German and French troops south of the village of Biaches, west of Peronne. The war office reported considerable artillery on the whole Somme front.

RUSSIANS PUSH ON.

Paris, July 17.—Russian troops in action on the French campaign front counter-attacked successfully last night, inflicting heavy losses on the Germans, the war office stated today. There has been no important fighting in the region of the Somme.

CHICAGO LABOR SUPPLY EXHAUSTED

Militia Mobilization Creates a Shortage of Skilled and Unskilled Labor.

MORE THAN 1,000 JOBS OPEN

(By United Press.)

Chicago, July 17.—Whatever the effect may have been on other cities the mobilization of the American militia finds Chicago facing a serious skilled and unskilled labor shortage today. The extensive employment of women in that heretofore have been exclusively masculine fields is not considered improbable nor remote.

Labor employment bureaus are swamped with demands for male help of all kinds. Want ad columns are jammed with offers of jobs. More than 1,000 regular manual labor jobs are waiting for men to take them. Almost an equal number of skilled labor jobs are open.

The demand for office assistants, managers, clerks and men of trades is far in excess of the supply. Hundreds of first class jobs have gone begging ever since Uncle Sam's call for state troops took the militiamen from their benches, desks and offices and the prosecution of regular business in many instances seriously has been interfered with.

PEOPLE WITH HIM ARE HURT

Chauncey Duncan received word today that his uncle, M. T. Duncan, prominent farmer and stock raiser of near Greenfield, was probably fatally injured yesterday in an automobile accident not far from Greenfield.
Mr. Duncan, who was driving his own automobile, attempted to pass a buggy and his machine turned over, breaking his back. It is not thought that he can recover.
Adam P. Hogle, who was riding with Mr. Duncan, sustained a broken collar bone and severe bruises. The families of Mr. Duncan and Mr. Hogle were riding in the car, but they escaped with minor bruises.
Mr. Duncan is a very prominent man in Greenfield. He owns a large farm just at the edge of Greenfield on the National Road. He has been very successful raising stock.

Lorain, O., July 17.—In celebration of his twenty-five years as a barber, Theodore Curtis today hauled out and exhibited records to prove that he has shaved 243,960 men, including Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft; Senators Hanna, Quay, Beveridge and Ben Tillman; Doc Cook, Buffalo Bill, Jess Willard, Tod Sloan and Harry Thaw. He has cut enough hair to make eleven mattresses and to pad 43,562 crutches. He would like to add Charles E. Hughes to his list. When a friend heard that Curtis had shaved so many, he remarked that he didn't see how one man could talk so much.

Mrs. Sheldon Spent $1900 for

Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Englewood, Ill. — "While going through the Change of Life I suffered with headaches, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing at times. I spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called at my house and said she had been as sick as I was at one time, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well, so I took it and now I am just as well as I ever was. I cannot understand why women don't see how much pain and suffering they would escape by taking your medicine. I cannot praise it enough for it saved my life and kept me from the Insane Hospital." — Mrs. E. SHELTON, 5657 S. Halsted St., Englewood, Ill.

Physicians undoubtedly did their best, battled with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

TO FALL DUE 10th AFTER THIS

Water bills must be paid on or before July 20 if the consumer desires to avoid being cut off and forced to pay an additional dollar to renew the service. The city has announced that all water bills must be paid by this date or they will start cutting them off.

Under the ruling of the public service commission the city has the right to collect another dollar after the water bill is paid if the consumer thus cut off wants back on. This will be followed out to the letter. The water bills were originally due the tenth of the month, but as this is the first time the new ruling has been out in force the city decided to grant a slight extension of time. This will not be done hereafter.

Days Pickings

A baby boy, weighing 7 1/2 pounds, was born to the wife of Kenneth Hepp of Shelbyville at an Indianapolis hospital yesterday. Mrs. Hepp was formerly Miss Grace Morrison and is well known here and Mr. Hepp formerly lived in Rushville.

David L. McKee, a Connersville attorney who is well known here, suffered painful burns to his arms Saturday while undergoing a form of electrical treatment. His arms were covered with a combination of oil and alcohol in preparation for the treatment and a spark leaped from the electrical apparatus, igniting the substance. The burns are not expected to prove serious, although quite painful.

We have made up another lot of scratch pads and are now on sale at the Republican office.

By 1919.

Spurred on by the pressure of Republican Senators and alarmed by the situation which actually confronts the country the Rip Van Winkles of the Democratic party have waked up. Josephus Daniels is assuring Congress that he wants more ships—and speedily. The press agents of the administration have burst into print to tell the nation that our navy will most likely be able probably to count sixteen new capital ships for its fleet by 1919.

This date arouses some suggestive comment. The European war began two years ago. Its lessons for us were as evident and as pertinent then as they are now. The administration and Congress were urged to profit thereby. The President spurned this counsel with ironic language. Congress was even more caustic in its refusal.

Yet if Mr. Wilson and Mr. Daniels had taken action in 1914 as they are preparing to take it now, we could look forward to having those sixteen new capital ships in 1917 instead of in 1919. In 1919 it might be too late.

The one feature of the Mexican trouble that Americans cannot overlook is that by his policy President Wilson has enabled the Mexicans—both defacto rulers and bandits—to secure the arms and ammunition with which they have slaughtered citizens of the United States. Although Villa had a notorious record as a murderer, outlaw and ex-convict, he was for a time a favorite of the administration, and his forces were permitted to secure arms and munitions in this country. It is everywhere recognized that if the embargo on arms had been consistently maintained, the Mexican situation would be much better and many American lives would have been saved, and much property preserved from destruction. No amount of sophistry can conceal or evade the facts.

It is surprising how quickly a person can lose interest in a subject that has been uppermost in their minds for a year or more. Since the European war commenced it has been the one great topic of conversation and speculation the world over. Now, so far as we of the United States are concerned, it is a back number, shoved off the map, practically forgotten. Our little clothes line affair with Mexico is the all absorbing object before the public eye and in the public mind, and just at this time a sick mule on the border is of more importance to us than the outcome of any of the innumerable clashes across the water. Patriotism should and does begin at home.

Have you noticed the peculiarities beneath the surface in the mobilization of the National Guard of the United States and its dispatch to the border? Serving in the ranks of the organizations are millionaires from the highest social and financial families. In the same commands are janitors, farmers, clerks, and common laborers, all good men and true. Each is serving his country to the best of his ability, but the most noticeable feature is the fact that social caste is utterly unknown. The millionaire and the laborer groom their horses or dig ditches side by side and joke as though they had been fast friends all of their lives. They are comrades in a common cause, and as comrades they think act and do.

Some fellows are always looking around to see whether the other fellows are working or not. And that is why the boss is always watching them.

It is true, nevertheless, that a fool can get down on his knees in the street, paw up the dirt, and every wise man in sight will rush over to see what's in the wind.

They say that some facts are stranger than fiction. But what modern male wants to worry his noodle over just plain facts.

The man who earns his wage invariably finds a wage waiting to be earned.

There are times, though, when our wise men are just as foolish as the rest of us.

Boost the fellow who boost for good roads. He deserves it and the roads need it.

Current Comments

Can't Overlook Tariff.
(Norwich, Conn. Bulletin.)

Just how much attention the tariff will get in the coming presidential campaign remains to be seen. It may for the time being be overshadowed by the question of preparedness, but it is a matter nevertheless which cannot be overlooked. It is of vital importance to the country that the false position in which the Underwood bill is made to stand be unmasked.

The fact that industries are rushed with business and labor employed at wages higher than ever before does not mean that such has been brought about by the democratic administration. Far from it.

It is well known what the situation was previous to the opening of the war. Business was in a slump and the country was facing a serious depletion of its revenue because of the tariff slashing that had been done. Today optimism prevails but it is because the war has temporarily made up for the situation which the free trade policy projected. Business is good but there are many lines of business which would be increased or built up provided there was legislation that would encourage them and insure them a chance to live after the European conflict is over. Business which is based upon the war is good today and gone tomorrow. It is as uncertain as the weather and tariff consideration cannot be neglected because of it.

This country does not want to be forced to meet federal taxation forever and it does not want to go back to the uncertainty created by the Underwood bill just previous to the war, and yet that is certain unless there is a readjustment of the tariff such as the republican party has stood for in the past stands for today.

TWO WILSONS—1894-1916

Washington, July 17 (Special correspondence)—It was a sultry day in the month of August, 1894. Pages were running helter-skelter through the aisles of the Floor of the House. The galleries were crowded with spectators, and as this was at a time before Woodrow Wilson discovered that an "insidious lobbyist" was one who argued for protection before the Committees of Congress, the corridors were filled with men who held a brief for some commercial interest. Representatives were perspiring freely, their collars wilted, their throats husky. There was the usual rumble of voices, interrupted frequently by the gavel of Speaker Charles F. Crisp.

At length the gavel pounded hard for order. The House quieted down so that a pin might have been heard to drop. The tensest moment in many weary months had approached. The 53rd Congress, in the last round of a gruelling contest was about to vote on the tariff act of 1894, familiarly known as the Wilson bill. The Yeas and Nays were ordered, and the conference report was adopted. The bill was ready for the signature of Grover Cleveland—a bill he refused to sign, but which became a law by virtue of the ten-day Constitutional limitation.

Immediately upon the announcement of the vote which placed on the statute books of this country for three years a piece of tariff legislation second only to the Underwood law for viciousness, pandemonium broke loose on the Floor. William Jennings Bryan was then a Congressman from Lincoln, Nebraska. He had fought throughout for free trade; he was uncompromisingly for free wool, and free wool was the sop thrown to him. While the cheering and hand-clapping and stamping were at their height, Bryan, leading several others jumped over the seats, and the hero of a transcendent hour, William L. Wilson, of West Virginia, was carried out on the shoulders of four brother tariff wreckers. The tumult became deafening, when up rose one Thomas B. Reed later to be heard from as the great reorganizer of the rules of the House, and with that voice that would have overtopped the din of Verdun, he bellowed, "The country will carry him out in November."

What a prophecy! Glance over the lists of the Members of the 54th Congress and the name of William L. Wilson will nowhere be found. That Congress was overwhelmingly Republican, and, during the 55th Congress William McKinley presided over the destinies of this Nation, Thomas B. Reed put in force the celebrated Reed Rules, and Nelson Dingley of Maine, brought before Congress a tariff law which made the United States the most prosperous, 1916, the country will carry nation in the world. And in November another tariff wrecker. And his name, likewise, is Wilson.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. prises, or to those of France or Germany. Russia is 80 per cent peasant.

So the peasants got together with land-owners and villagers, forming the All-Russian Zemstvo Union. And the towns-people and city dwellers got together in the All-Russian together in a Central Committee—a Municipality Union, the two getting volunteer citizen organization, not of manufacturers, not of commercial kings, but of rich people, poor people, gentry and peasants—offering their services gratis to the land.

There is, however, in Russia, an organization resembling Lloyd George's mustering of English industry is called the War Industry Committee and is of considerable importance.

Prior to six years ago there was no industrial group in Russia every man for himself. But with the coming of the Duma, the Russian Congress, they felt the need of an organization which would look out for their joint interests in possible legislation to come. Also a new commercial treaty with Germany was to be negotiated in 1914 and here again Russian industry wished to make herself heard.

So about 1910 a "Congress of Representatives of Trade and Commerce" met and organized themselves into what corresponds to American merchants' and manufacturers' associations, the object of which was to look out the mutual interests of its members.

Last year this group of men, taking the tip from Lloyd George in England, and seeing the necessity of giving aid to the army particularly as regards munitions and kindred military needs, formed the War Industry Committee. This body of men today is giving great help to the Russian government. This is the organization similar to those in England and France. But the Zemstvo and Municipality Unions, with their Central Committee, are in themselves unique—as is the Co-operative movement of Russia with its nearly a hundred million adherents scattered from the Baltic across the frozen steppes of Siberia to the Pacific, from the White Sea to the Black.

The city of Moscow began the Municipality Union after the big Russian retreat. Mayor Chelnokov, the tremendously alive head of the Municipal Council of Russia's second capital, issued invitations to the other cities and large towns of the Empire to join in a city dweller's organization similar to the Zemstvo or rural one, and they all responded.

Like the Zemstvo, the Municipality Union said to the Russian government: "Here we are! Use us!"

It was soon seen that as the two unions were doing practically the same work, much overlapping might be obviated and more effective work accomplished if a merger could be effected.

So the Central Committee of the All-Russian Zemstvo and Municipal Unions was formed about the first of July, 1915.

The Committee's work has been phenomenal. It has supplied the army, at the army's request, with munitions, muntion boxes, daggers, spades, hatchets, snippers to cut barbed-wire, stoves, axels, wearing apparel, barbed-wire, hospital supplies, and scores of other things.

In England and France and Russia the War Industry organizations work for profit as well as for patriotic motives. In Russia the most important organization by far are purely citizen ones and these work without profit to themselves.

They demand but one thing and that is to serve. Nor do they ever offer excuses by saying this or that is not their kind of work. On one occasion they lent the army 300,000 laborers to dig trenches and fed these workers while they dug. On another they mobilized civilians to build military bridges.

If the Army Commissary asked the Committee for supplies, the Commissary got them, whatever their nature. In January of this year it put in a demand for 24,000,000 articles of clothing and the Committee, after consulting the Zemstvo and municipality Unions, said all right, the Commissary should have them.

The work of the 3 citizens Committee is not confined to the army. It has opened innumerable creches taking care of tens of thousands of children, fed seven to eight million refugees, housed the homeless And all for Russia.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES START

Light Harness Events Get Under Way at Cleveland Today—
Good Year Promised.

MANY PROMISING HORSES

Over 2,500 Entered in the Ten Cities in Circuit and Purses Total $400,000.

Cleveland, O., July 17.—With the promise of more sensational speed and a greater number of dazzling contests than any previous racing season has produced, the grand circuit light harness events started here today.

More than 2,500 horses are booked to run during the three months of racing on the ten tracks throughout the middle west.

The total money offered by the circuit members exceed $400,000. Five futurity events, worth $40,000, will be decided at the grand circuit meetings here and at Detroit, July 24-29; Kalamazoo, July 31-Aug. 5; Grand Rapids, Aug. 7-12; Columbus, Aug. 14-19; here Aug. 21-26; Poughkeepsie, Aug. 28-Sept. 1; Hartford, Sept. 4-9; Syracuse, Sept. 14-19; Columbus, Sept. 18-30; Lexington, Oct. 2-14 and Atlanta, Oct. 16-21.

Ordinary purses have been increased from the usual $1,000 to $1,200 and $1,500.

"Never in the history of harness racing have so many great horses been in sight," said President Harry K. Deveraux of the circuit today. "I expect the 1916 season to be the best in the circuit's history."

Driver Billy Andrews of the Big Six is ill and probably will not be seen in a sulky this season. Ben White will replace Andrews. The other standbys: "Pop" Geers, Billy Snow, Lon McDonald, Charley Valentine and Tommy Murphy, will be here O. K.

There are two new tracks on the circuit this season. Poughkeepsie takes the place of the Empire City track near New York and Atlanta was taken into the circuit when Montreal was dropped last summer because the war's restriction of racing in Canada to three days a week made the Montreal track unprofitable. Columbus took one Montreal week.

CITIZENS ALL HELP RUSSIA

City Men, Farmers, the Landed Gentry and Villages Are All Solid Block For Country.

INDUSTRY IS MOBILIZED

Is Not Confined to Army But is Taking Care of Thousands of Children There.

BY WILLIAM PHILIPS SIMS (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Petrograd, June 17—(By Mail)—City men and farmers, the landed gentry and villages are today a solid block in Russia and, under the name of "The Central Committee" are working might and main to support the army and the country generally.

The organization composed of landed gentry, peasants and village property-owners is called the All-Russian Zemstvo Union. I told of this in the Republican of July 15.

But the towns and cities of Russia have also organized themselves into a volunteer salaryless citizens' group to assist the government wage war, their name being the All-Russian Municipality Union. And it is this group which, with the All-Russian Zemstvo Union, completes the Central Committee.

The Central Committee whose members serve absolutely without pay, sits Sundays and week-days in Petrograd, acting as a co-ordinating body, centralizing the work of the citizens of the whole Empire.

So far as I can find out this Committee and these two great All-Russian Unions combined in it, have no counterpart anywhere in Europe or in the world.

In France the people are heart and soul with the government in their determination to fight the war to victory cost what it may. In that country all sorts of organizations abound, providing hospitals, ambulances, refugee homes, feeding stations and the like. There is no end to their labors. But the government feeds, clothes, and equips its army through commissions who deal with industrial corporations principally, if not entirely.

In England it is the same. Lloyd George, upon assuming the post of Minister of Munitions chose as his battle-ery the Mobilization of Industry, which meant that the industrial plants of the land should be organized to produce munitions and other needfuls for the British Army.

In Russia the difference is vast. Russia is an agricultural nation. Manufacturing corporations are few compared to England's vast enter-

HINER-STUMPF

At three o'clock this afternoon a beautiful home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Hiner when their daughter, Miss Edith Hiner, was joined in marriage to Edward Stumpf of Cleveland. Dr. D. Ira Lambert performed the ceremony, the simple ring service being used. Bouquets of lovely pink roses were the only decoration used in the rooms were the very few friends and relatives gathered.

The bride never looked more attractive than she did this afternoon, with a dark blue pussy willow taffet suit with a champagne embroidered sailor color. She wore champagne gloves and shoes to match, a lovely white Georgette blouse trimmed with champagne, and the costume was completed with a blue silk sailor hat. Her corsage bouquet was of pink rose buds.

After graduating from the local high school, she attended normal school at Terre Haute and Marion, and has also studied at Winona. Of the eleven years that she has taught school, nine years have been spent in the Havens school of this city where she taught the second grade. Her teaching ability which is a well known fact and her activities in the social affairs of the city have made a host of friends for the bride of today.

Mr. Stumpf travels for a well known hardware firm in Cleveland, where he and his bride will make their future home. They left this evening for their new home by way of Cincinnati and Columbus Ohio, where they will make short stops.

Among the few guests who attended the wedding were Miss Carrie Bowers of Indianapolis, Miss Alma Taylor of Chouteau, Oklahoma, who is spending the summer at Winona Lake, and Mrs. Margaret Morton and son, Earl of Milroy, who are also spending the summer at Winona Lake.

CENTENNIAL NEWS LETTER.

The much anticipated Centennial Memorial Medal, designed by Janet Scudder, is at hand, the first medal to be cast having been received. Done in delicate low-relief, the medal shows on one face an allegorical representation of "The Admission of Indiana to the Union"—Columbia welcoming Indiana as a State—while small, yet clearly modeled and forming part of the design, are to be seen the quaint first State House and the Constitutional Elm, both still standing at Corydon. On the other face is the familiar Indiana State Seal, but improved and made more artistic under the refining touch of Miss Scudder's skilled fingers. The medal committee and the Commission are delighted with the medal.

There will be an immediate issue of 918 numbered proof medals, having the personal signature of Governor Ralston, and enclosed in a handsome book containing descriptive articles on the Centennial and the development of the State. The plan of allotment is to have nine of these medals sold by each member of the Commission and nine sold in each county of the State, through the County Centennial Chairman. The price of this autographed copy is five dollars. There will be a general issue of the medal alone at one dollar each.

The State University will give fifty copies on request to any Centennial Committee, additional copies being offered at the rate of one dollar per hundred. ## SUBMARINE LIFE IS NOT HEALTHY

Interior of Undersea Boats Sweats

Like Pitcher of Ice Water on a Hot Day.

MEN FACE IMPAIRED HEALTH

Never Really Sleep But Merely

Lapse From Sheer Exhaustion
to Semi-Consciousness.

The chance of being sent to a watery grave by a shell from an enemy craft or of dying in a submarine caught in an enemy net are not the only dangers of life in a submersible.

Men on submarines face the danger from tuberculosis and pneumonia. The chances for death, from many causes is so great naval officials of most governments warn men who are married or have other dependents not to take positions on submersible boats.

The interior of a submarine sweats like a pitcher of ice water. After a man is inside a submarine an hour his clothes are wet all the way through. The men wear as many clothes as possible and sometimes put on life preservers for extra warmth.

During raids in the European war, when submersibles were compelled to stay under water long periods, sailors have been known to lose much weight, 20 pounds in some cases. The weakened condition of the men brings on tuberculosis.

Physicians say men on submarines never really sleep, but merely lapse from exhaustion into a state of semi-consciousness for several hours. It is said bad air, the smell of machinery, the vibration and the strain make natural sleep impossible.

Besides these things, men on submarines are liable to what is called the worst sickness in the world—submarine seasickness. The movement of submersibles in storms is frightful, as the boats are sealed up tight and the closeness of the air is said to be enough to cause death.

Few submarines have beds. The men simply lie down where they can. There can not be any cooking on submarines and the men live mainly on biscuits and canned meats.

The sailors are compelled to be economical with water when down low in enemy territory, although there are thousands of gallons of water all around them. In enemy territory the boats can not go to the surface to take on water.

There cannot be any artificial heat in a submarine so the interior of the boat is always the temperature of the water or air outside. If the water or air outside is around zero, the men on the submarine live in zero atmosphere.

The sailors are not allowed to smoke.

Some experts say that in a war where submarines are compelled to go on raids into enemy territory and stay under water long periods, tuberculosis will cause more deaths than the enemy.

GERMANS ASK TO BE KILLED

OFFICER CONSENTED TO ACT

Dozen Wounded Soldiers All Begged to be Put Out of Misery—Fought With Zouaves.

(By United Press.) Winchester, Mass., July 17.—John Sheehan, Harvard '11, back from the Verdun front with a medal of honor for courageous work as an ambulance driver in the American legion, today told the United Press this story of the battlefield as it was related to him by a French captain of Zouaves who lay mortally wounded in a base hospital:

Following one of the terrific charges by the Boches up a shell swept slope held by the French, the field was strewn with dead and dying. Incessant artillery fire for three days before the final charge had pitted the hillside with huge shell-craters and had driven the French first line infantry back to the crest of the knoll.

Then came the Germans, pouring out of their network of trenches, stumbling up the steep slopes and going down before the rifle fire of the French zouaves. Three times the Boches attempted to gain the crest, and each time were mowed down by a hail of lead, falling back to their lines in scattered groups.

When night came on and the German charge had been stayed, No Man's Land, between the French lines on the top of the hill and the Germans' position on the plane below was piled high with dead and wounded; and the huge holes torn by the German shells were filled nearly level full with bodies.

Captain X had been in command of one of the first line trenches, and his company had fallen back just before the charge, leaving many wounded behind. Among the latter was a lieutenant, a brother-in-law of the captain's, with whom he had taken the oath of allegiance when their company was called, to the colors.

Calling to a gigantic Zouave, known as the bravest man in his company, the captain told him he intended creeping down the bloody slope under cover of darkness, in the hope that he might rescue his comrade and asked the man to accompany him.

As they made their way down, inch by inch, for incendiary shells screaming overhead lit up by the sky from time to time, making them clear targets for the German guns, the Captain and his man passed hundreds of moaning, dying comrades and Germans; and their canteens were nearly empty when they reached the trench they had once held.

There, nearly dead from thirst and wounds, they found the lieutenant, half way up the side of a great hole torn by a 16 inch shell. In the darkness the Captain's flashlight lit up the crater with ghastly effect and he hastened to pass his comrade up to the Zouave, dimming his ears to the groans of the wounded all about him. As he himself started to ascend the slope a hand clutched his ankle and a voice in German begged:

"Kill us, kill us!"

Turning his flashlight toward the crater's bottom, Captain X saw there more than a dozen frightfully wounded Germans, gasping for water and several already dead from their sufferings.

Trying to draw away, he answered the German captain who had called to him, saying that he did not wish to kill them, that he could not do it in cold blood.

Then the Tonton Captain, his right arm hanging in shreds, clung to him in desperation. He must kill them, in God's mercy he must. The hole in which they lay was not exposed to the fire of the combatants, but the Germans would never again attempt the desperate charge in which they had lost so heavily the afternoon before, and the French could not move

LARGE CHORUS TO LEAD CONVENTION

1000 Voices Will Sing at Prohibition National Meeting When it Opens Tomorrow.

WILL SING SPECIAL SONG

(By United Press.) St. Paul, Minn., July 17.—A chorus of 1,000 voices, not one of which ever raised its clarion tone to the strains of "Hail, Hail, The Gangs All Here," will lead the Prohibitionists' National Convention in song when it opens here tomorrow.

More than twenty thousand song books of the convention have been scattered throughout the country and prohibitionists from every state have learned the list. Hundreds of auto parties are on their way into the city today from so far as 3,000 miles distant, holding impromptu prohibition song services along the route.

The chorus will be led by Rollin M. Pease of St. Paul who, though now a professional singer, has been law clerk, miner, tramp, rancher, machinist and builder. He wrote many of the convention songs.

Among the songs are such as these: "Our Nation's Going Dry," "Cashing My Check," "Down in the Licensed Saloon" and several dozen more like that.

HEAR ARGUMENT FOR NEW TRIAL

Six Judges Will Decide Whether Sir Roger Casement Will Get Another Hearing.

EARLY DECISION EXPECTED

(By United Press.)

London, July 17.—Six black robed judges are sitting here today to hear Sir Roger Casement's appeal for a new trial. Should the judges rule that Sir Roger's convention on the charge of giving aid and comfort to England's enemies by stirring up the Irish rebellion was just, the Irishman must hang. Sir Roger, one of the most brilliant men ever in the King's service, whose work among the colonies brought him a title and the royal favor, recently was found guilty of high treason. His defense was that he was working in the interest of Ireland's sovereignty, but not against England.

Although a statement has been communicated from the American government, through Ambassador Page, informing the British government that much interest is taken in the disposition of Sir Roger's case, nothing more nearly approaching a formal appeal of clemency could with diplomatic propriety be vouchsafed. The judges may not announce their decision today.

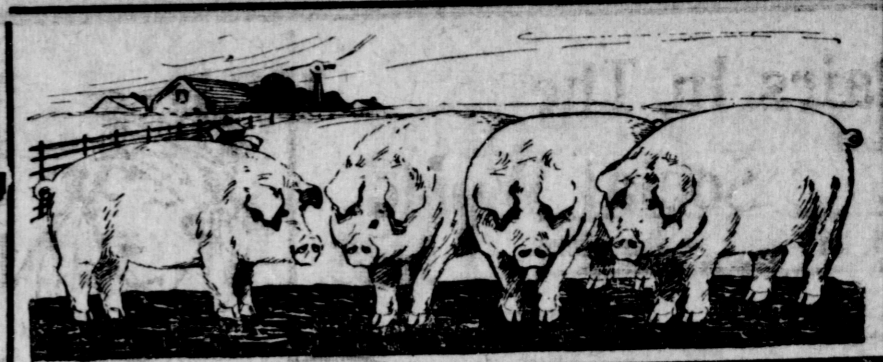

from their impregnable position. It meant that he and all his men would lie there until they died from thirst of their wounds.

Captain X mopped the clammy sweat from his brow and thought of the awful torture these men, enemies though they were, must endure, and then, deciding instantly, ordered his man to carry the Lieutenant on his back to the French lines and return with as many hand grenades as he could carry. For nearly an hour he lay beside the top of the crater, with only the occasional scream of a shell over head to drown out the groans of the Germans.

Then the Zouave returned, and with a muttered prayer they threw the grenades down into the heap of Germans until the last cries were

You're Raising Hogs for a Real Profit

There are many conditions which govern the success of raising hogs. The first problem is securing the proper kind of feed. Our Corn Germ Meal (Hominy Hearts) is the most beneficial feed that can be fed to hogs. The hominy hearts are the heart, or germ of the corn grain, separated without the use of chemicals or other substances.

Corn Germ Meal

contains all the minerals needed for bone building, an abundance of protein to insure flesh production and sufficient fat and carbohydrate to supply heat and energy. A hog must get all of these elements of food in a palatable and digestible form. This feed is equally as good for young pigs as for the older hogs.

THE FERTILIZER VALUE of this feed is valued at approximately $30 per ton. Certainly every farmer who is desirous to increase the fertility of the soil on his farm, is aware that the by-products from his barn-yard are invaluable to him.

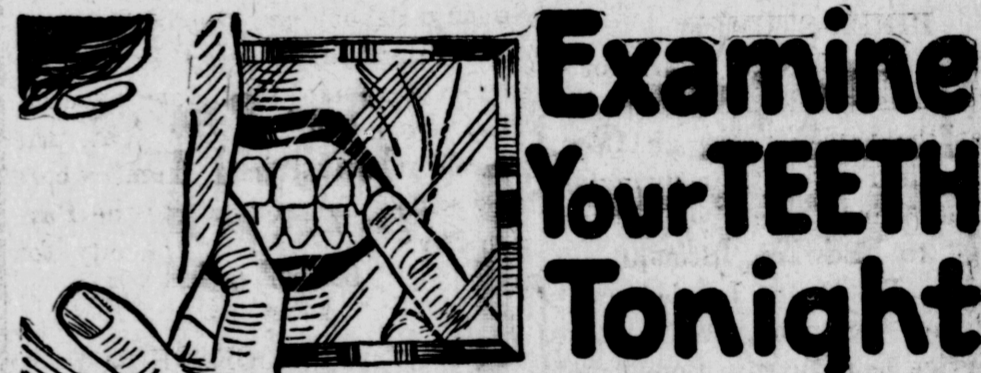

CORN GERM MEAL (both white and yellow) is exceedingly rich in protein and fat. The white meal is made from white corn—hence its name—but is yellow in color, the same as regular yellow Corn Germ Meal. The white meal has 19 per cent. protein and 7 per cent. fat—while the yellow runs 18 per cent. protein and about 8 per cent. fat. Common hominy meal usually has about 8 per cent. fat and only 9 per cent protein. You can, therefore, easily understand why Corn Germ Meal is far superior in every way to the common feeds.

Current Market Price is Now $28.50 per ton or $1.50 per 100 pound sack.

We are specialists on dairy and live stock feeds, poultry and field seed; we are responsible and our guarantee carries with it a tangible value. Send in your order today—same will have our immediate attention.

OUR NEW WARE HOUSE, which is now under construction will be the largest fire-proof feed ware house in the state, owned and occupied by one firm. —after you clean them.

You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. YOUR DENTIFRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one of two conditions—Pyorrhea or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of a dental specialist, is two-fold in its action. First, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Second, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Yet it is perfectly safe, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit.

this I do not mean that it is necessary for the party press to uphold them acts of an incompetent officer or defend an administration for all of its acts. There are certain great principles that the political parties believe in and the party press can believe in these without having to defend the acts of any one man or a group of men."

In closing Mr. Watson urged that the press, in its news articles tell the truth without "color," and if the editor differs with a man, then confine the discussion to the proper page.

The City Editors were guests of the Richmond Palladium. The meeting was the best ever held by the association. The visitors were treated to a chicken dinner Sunday noon at the Cliff Dale Auto Club and the business session were held in the Commercial Club rooms.

Rudolph Leeds, the owner of the Palladium, presided at the afternoon meeting and introduced Mr. Watson. He delivered a brief address following Mr. Watson. Mr. Leeds agrees with Mr. Watson that a paper should not use the so-called editorial-news stories. He took the position that competition alone in the newspaper business is responsible for changed position in the policy of papers and the completion was gradually working for the good of all papers. Mr. Watson and Mr. Leeds were made honorary members of the association.

good fair and you'd make a lot of money."

"You go over there and see Col. Kiplinger, he's running this shabang," said Mr. Riggs as he directed the Osgood over to John Kiplinger.

"We are packing tonight for a long jump to Pennsylvania," said the "colonel," thinking he would get rid of the gentleman who had the Osgood fair so close to his heart.

Some "telegrams" that caused a lot of merriment were received by Fon Riggs. One came from Connersville, signed by some steen thousand residents of that place in the far east. The message earnestly beseeched the Elks fair to move over to Connersville this week because, the telegram continued, the fair at Rushville the last four days of last week had taken all of the people out of Connersville and had made business very dull. It expressed some sarcasm, that message did, when it said something about Connersville people just "swarming" to the Elks fair at Rushville.

The alleged telegram closed with an offer from the many thousands of Connersville citizens to pay admissions to the Elks attractions with berries, the current coin of the realm in the Fayette county hills since business was so dull last week, due to the fair here.

WILL MEET AT NEWCASTLE

Next Gathering of District Business
Men Set For August 2.

The next district meeting of the business men's associations of this section of the state will be held at Newcastle Wednesday, August 2, it has been announced. The last session of the district association was at Shelbyville on June 14, when there were several hundred visitors. A large delegation went from Rushville in automobiles. The initial or get-together meeting of the business men of this part of the state was held here last spring. It is very likely Rushville will be as well if not better represented at Newcastle than she was at Shelbyville.

Young Men of Catholic Church
Clear Park For Annual Event.

Extensive preparation is being made for the carnival to be held by the men of St. Mary's Catholic church, July 25-29. The ground is being cleared and the different stands are being erected. An abundance of light will be on the grounds since workmen are stretching the wires through the various trees. The park is beautifully adapted for the staging of a carnival, with its well graded walks and commodious grass plots. The shows will be held in the old church hall, with an entire change of program each evening. This year a different troop will perform each evening.

Sunday, to Arrive Tuesday.

ONCE WAS DEPUTY RECORDER

Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder, formerly of this city, died suddenly at her home in Liberty Sunday morning, according to word received by relatives here today. It was not known here that she had been sick and the news of her demise was a deep shock.

Mrs. Snyder was about fifty years old and was the wife of Dr. Snyder, a Liberty veterinarian, who at one time lived in Rushville. Mrs. Snyder was the oldest child of the late Mr. and Mrs. George W. Guire of this city and was deputy county recorder of Rush county under Charles Nixon. It has not been long since Mrs. Snyder was visiting here.

She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Corinne, a brother, Jesse W. Guire of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Owen Cowing of Brookville and Mrs. Timothy Welsh of Richmond. The funeral will be held at the late residence in Liberty this evening and the body will be brought here tomorrow morning at 10:51 over the C. Indianapolis Rotarians Pass
Through Rushville Amid Shrieking of Auto Horns.

ONLY 50 CARS IN THE BUNCH

What Was Lacking in Numbers They Make up For in Noise—Are Met by a Committee.

Indianapolis Rotarians in fifty automobiles passed through here at eleven o'clock this morning enroute to the national convention at Cincinnati. The Rotarians fell down as far as numbers are concerned as they fully expected 200 or more automobiles to make the trip.

But the small crowd did not dampen the spirits of the Rotarians, who made a noisy entrance into the city and down through the business district. No stop was made as had been planned, owing to the fact that they were running a little late and desired to reach Magnesia Springs for dinner.

The crowd went from here to Connersville. No stop was scheduled for Connersville and the party is due to reach Cincinnati this afternoon at four o'clock. The Rotarians were all dressed for the occasion, each wearing a linen coat and bandana handkerchief. Both came in handy as the dust along the highways was thick. The dust was made even worse because the machines traveled close together.

The crowd was led by a "trail blazer" the path-finder car using confetti to guide the followers in order that none would stray from the course. The confetti was used to good advantage at all turns. This car was probably a mile in advance of the others.

A representative delegation of Rushville men met the Rotarians at the west corporation line and guided them through the city. The members expressed their appreciation at this courtesy on the part of the Rushville people.

The visitors attracted considerable attention as they passed through the city. A large crowd was on hand along the route and it was quite a sight to see the machines. It was explained that the failure of the South Bend and Terre Haute delegations to join the Indianapolis crowd accounted for the small number of machines. Many of the Rotarians from these two cities went on to Cincinnati Sunday. The convention opened there last Saturday.

Jas. E. Watson Pleads For Confinement of Editorial Opinions to Editorial Page.

SPEAKS TO CITY EDITORS

Addresses State Association Meeting at Richmond and is Made Honorary Member.

James E. Watson in an address to the City Editors of the state Sunday afternoon in Richmond urged that and private opinions to the editorial columns and not the news columns.

Mr. Watson stated that while he never had any newspaper experience it was his opinion that reporters, editors and others connected with a paper should not "color" articles to suit their private opinions and should tell the truth in the news columns and leave the editorial policy of the paper to the editorial page.

"It is a fundamental principle of this government that the majority shall rule," said Mr. Watson. "In order for this to hold good the people must be informed and if they are to rule intelligently it is necessary that they be informed truthfully. As a general rule I believe that the editor who permits his news stories regarding a man to be 'colored' does not know the man."

Mr. Watson pointed out that the newspapers of today carried news of all kind, from all sources and for this reason the general public was informed, but if the news was not truthful the public was misled and therefore could not rule as they should. "The time has passed," said Mr. Watson, "when a paper can be run for the sole benefit and to simply satisfy the whim of the editor."

He told of the time Vanderbilt had his run-in with the public regarding the railroad. In this the public did take a hand, he said, and it is the same with a newspaper. "How long would a newspaper last," inquired Mr. Watson, "if the editor said 'the public be damned'! It would go to rack and ruin in a short time. In this I believe that the newspapers of today are becoming more and more like a public utility and must cater to what the people want and not what the editor wants."

"I believe in a partisan press. This government is ruled by political parties and in order that the parties be properly informed it is necessary to have the party organs. But by

MUST REGISTER IF YOU MOVED

Indiana Law Requires. This Even Though Voter Only Changes Precincts.

CHAIRMAN ARE INSTRUCTED

Booklets Containing Copies of New Statute Are Sent Throughout the State.

Indiana voters who have moved from one precinct to another since the election of 1914 should not lose sight of the fact that they are required to register this year if they expect to vote at the election next November. Both political party state organizations are working on the registration matter and are making plans to see to it that their voters are all registered. Booklets containing copies of the new registration on law are being sent out to the county chairmen all over the state, and instructions are being given in every possible way so that no man should be missed.

The old registration law provided for three registration periods in each year when a general election was to be held. But the legislature changed this cumbersome and expensive law to which the Democrats had pointed with so much pride and joy. It was found that in many precincts the cost of keeping the registration boards in session on the second and third days caused the registration of each voter to cost tremendously, and there was loud complaint from over the state. So the Democratic legislature was compelled to take the chance of making some of the patriots mad because of being deprived of the jobs of sitting on the registration boards and it amended the law.

Under the present system any voter who was legally registered in his precinct for the election of 1914, will not be required to register again this year, unless he now lives in another precinct than the one in which he was registered in 1914. In other words, the registration books and lists are permanent lists, and are open to changes, additions and subtractions of names whenever they are justified.

The registration board meets in each precinct on Monday, the twenty-ninth day before the election. On that day all persons who have moved into a different precinct, all new voters, all who have moved in from other places are required to register.

In cases where county commissioners have changed, divided, consolidated or established any election precincts in such manner as to transfer voters from one precinct to the other, the county auditor and the county chairmen of the two leading political parties shall, prior to registration day, meet and strike off all names of voters whose names appear in the books of the precinct in which they were registered and voted in 1914 and who have been transferred to another precinct, and they shall deliver the names to the registration board of the precincts in which the voters at that time belong.

Unless their attention is called to the matter, many voters who registered and voted two years ago and who have since moved into other precincts are likely to take it for granted that their registration of two years ago still holds good and makes them legal voters. But such is not the case, and it will be up to every individual voter this year to make sure that he is registered in his proper precinct. It is with this end in view that the political party organizations are already at work on the registration proposition.

JUST SIX MILES FROM BORDER

Rushville Boys With Battery B, 30 Miles From Brownsville, Fred Beale, Jr., Writes.

DRINK WATER FROM LAKE

Worst Fight Just Now is With the Mosquitos Which Infest Their Camp in Texas.

Under date of July 12, Fred Beale, Jr., member of Battery B with the Indiana National Guard doing patrol duty on the Mexican border, has written his mother, Mrs. Hattie Beale, describing the trip to Texas, and the condition of the country in which their camp is located.

All other Rushville boys with the National Guard are members of Battery B. The letter follows:

Llano Grande, Texas.

July 13th.
Dear Mother: We arrived here Monday evening at 4 o'clock and this is the first opportunity I have had to write. We left camp at Indianapolis at 8:30 last Thursday night but did not know where we were going until that afternoon. This camp is about 30 miles from Brownsville and just 6 miles from the Mexican border, so you see we are pretty far south, almost 2000 miles from Indianapolis.

The country here is very sparsely settled as practically nothing can be raised, the only vegetation being mosquito trees. They resemble tus. Bunches of beans grow on the mesquite trees. They resemble somewhat our green beans and these with a bulb grown on the cactus chiefly comprise the food of the Mexican Peons. This food would kill an American.

We have not had much intensive heat yet as this is the rainy season and it rains nearly every day. This may last for several weeks and then it may not rain for over a year. Our greatest or worst hardships are fighting mosquitoes and drinking milky water dipped from a lake about 24 miles from here, but the former will be eliminated with the slacking up of the rain.

I certainly enjoyed the trip as we were treated royally by the people of the various towns we passed through. We had several loads of horses with us and so had to stop 3 hours each day to feed, water, and let them rest, this gives us a chance to have a good time for a while. The people of the towns where we stopped generally had sandwiches and ice water for us, while the girls were crazy to see us and give us their names and addresses.

The mail leaves here once a day at 4 o'clock in the evening so I will have to close this now although I haven't written half what I wanted. In my next letter, will tell you all about our camp life, so hurry and answer this.

I am all tanned up and will look like a negro when I get back.

FIFTEEN DIE IN SOUTHERN FLOOD

Bridges Are Carried Away and Railroad Traffic is Demoralized—Two Trains "Lost."

HUNDREDS ARE INJURED

Southern Railroad Practically Suspends Business—$10,000 Estimated Damage.

(By United Press.)

Asheville, N. C., July 17.—Two Cincinnati bound trains, the California special which left here Saturday night and another which left last night are "lost" as the result of the flood which swept eastern North Carolina with the loss of 15 lives.

All railroad and commercial telegraph lines are down. Many bridges were carried away in the flood and railway traffic is paralyzed.

Danger of a flood and water famine in Asheville caused the city authorities today to seize the food and water supply. Gasoline prices soared to $1 a gallon.

More than 100 persons are homeless. The flood came so suddenly that many had to wade from their homes. Those drowned at Biltmore were caught in the current and swept away.

Washington, July 17.—The southern Railroad practically suspended traffic today south of Washington. Reports continued to pour in, telling of disaster from floods in North and South Carolina. A second bridge of Charlotte division went out at 3 a. m. Trains are unable to proceed beyond Salisbury and no wires are in operation south of that point, Atlanta being reached by way of Chicago and New Orleans.

Ten million dollars worth of property destroyed, five persons known dead, hundreds injured and missing, railroad traffic and telephone and telegraph communication demoralized, is the known toll of the flood sweeping the Carolinas and Virginia. Meager, disjointed details are drifting into Washington.

FIRST WHEAT YIELD FIFTEEN BUSHELS

Initial Load of 1916 Crop in Rush County Comes From the John C. Humes Farm.

MANY MACHINES START TODAY

The first wheat in the county was threshed Saturday afternoon. The first operations along this line took place on the John C. Humes farm, southeast of the city, and the first load of wheat reached the Winkler Grain company, being brought by James Miller. The wheat tested 59 pounds to the bushel, and while the wheat is not as heavy as in other years, it is of exceptional quality. It averaged fifteen bushels to the acre on a field of ten acres.

Threshing began today in the northern part of the county when operations were started at the Scott Ward farm, near Henderson. T. H. Reed and Son have again opened their elevator at Farmers' Rice. Reed is in charge of this elevator. The company that threshed the Humes wheat was on the Elmer Morris farm near Orange today.

RURAL CREDIT BILL IS SIGNED

President Declares Farmers Have Same Opportunity to Get Credit as Others.

BANKS TO BE ESTABLISHED

L. B. Clore of Indiana Said to Have Good Chance to Land Place on Board Created.

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 17.—Accompanying the act with a speech paying tribute to the farmers of the country, President Wilson today signed the rural credits bill. It approves establishment of land mortgage banks to handle long time mortgage loans for farmers.

"The farmers, it seems to me, have sets hitherto a singular position of disadvantage," said the president. "They have not had the same freedom to get credit on their real assets that others have had who were in manufacturing and commercial enterprises. And while they sustained our lives, they did not in the same degree with some others share in the benefits of that life. Therefore, this bill, along with the very liberal provisions of the federal reserve act, puts them on an equality with all others who have genuine assets and makes the great credit of the country available to them."

The president started immediately the task of selecting members of the rural credits board provided in the act. Prominent among the applicants are L. B. Clore of Indiana, and Herbert Quick, West Virginia, and C. B. Kegley of Washington.

The choice of a member which is a practical farmer brought Clore forward, but Clore's selection has been left in doubt because of the failure of Indiana congressmen to present a united front for him. It was understood today they had agreed to drop all differences and support Clore.

Clore backed the Indiana Democratic organization when he made his unsuccessful race for the nomination for governor this year.

OFFICIAL SAYS VILLA IS DEAD

High Authority in Washington Declares His Name is Being Used to Inspire Fear

ARMY WILL RETURN SHORTLY

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 17.—Villa is dead, General Pershing's troops will be out of Mexico within a month and the National guard back within three months, a high war department official said today.

Villa's name is being used by minor leaders to inspire fear among Carranzistas, the official declared. He said Carranza was stronger today in Mexico than he ever has been, principally because he had averted war with the United States, "with out loss of dignity by Mexico."

Army men in touch with border and Mexican interior conditions said today there "isn't a chance in a thousand" of further trouble with Mexico, either by repetition of the Parral and Carrizal incidents or by bandit raids.

ELKS MUST HAVE THEIR JOKES BEFORE CARNIVAL COMES TO END

Telegram From Connersville Tells of Business Depression Because of Event.

URGES CARNIVAL COME THERE

As the Elks indoor fair died Saturday night, some of the Elks would have their little jokes, and some of them (the jokes) turned out to be real.

Fon Riggs, who developed into a carnival "spider" of the first water, was doing initial "ballyhoo" stunt for the minstrel show Saturday night when he felt someone tugging at his sleeve. He supposed that it was an Elk having a little fun at his expense and he paid no attention. But the tugging at his sleeve became insistent and Mr. Riggs turned and found a stranger at his elbow. The stranger was all dressed up "like a million dollars" and he looked like he wanted to talk business.

"Say Pard," he said, addressing himself to Mr. Riggs, "where are you going next week?"

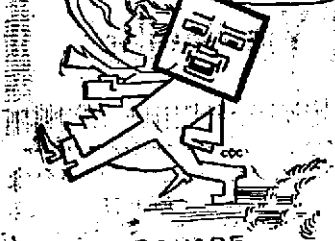

Thinking that it was all a big joke, Mr. Riggs smiled and replied that he didn't know yet.

But this fellow was in earnest. He wanted something more definite.

"I allowed, as how you might bring this whole carnival down to the Osgood fair next week. We have a

SMALL CHANCE OF BREAK IN HEAT WAVE

Weather Man Predicts Generally

Fair Weather—Thunder Storm

Imminent Late Today.

HOTTEST WEATHER THUS FAR

With a forecast of "generally fair tonight and Tuesday," the weather man held out small hopes for a thunderstorm to break the present siege of high temperatures and torrid atmosphere. Although many persons thought this the hottest day of the summer, downtown thermometers in the shade registered only ninety-two degrees. Of course, those which were hit by the sun went way above the hundred mark.

Temperature in other cities Sunday were the highest of the season, but there being no official government thermometer here, it is impossible to get accurate temperatures. Many reported that their thermometers went several degrees above ninety yesterday afternoon.

A thunderstorm seemed imminent this afternoon, but the weather man said "generally fair" and most folks have lots of faith in what he says.

CHICAGO LABOR SUPPLY EXHAUSTED

Militia Mobilization Crgates

Shortage of Skilled and Unskilled Labor.

MORE THAN 1,000 JOBS OPEN

(By United Press.)

Chicago, July 17.—Whatever the effect may have been on other cities the mobilization of the American militia finds Chicago facing a serious skilled and unskilled labor shortage today. The extensive employment of women in flat heretofore have been exclusively masculine fields is not considered improbable nor remote.

Labor employment bureaus are swamped with demands for male help of all kinds. Want advertisements are jammed with offers of jobs. More than 1,000 regular manual labor jobs are waiting for men to take them. Almost an equal number of skilled labor jobs are open.

The demand for office assistants, managers, clerks and men of trades is far in excess of the supply. Hundreds of first class jobs have gone begging ever since Uncle Sam's call for state troops took the militiamen from their benches, desks and offices and the prosecution of regular business in many instances seriously has been interfered with.

MUST PAY WATER BILLS BY JULY 20

City Will Cut Off Patrons Who do Not Obey Order—Must Pay $1. to Get Back On.

TO FALL DUE 10th AFTER THIS

Water bills must be paid on or before July 20 if the consumer desires to avoid being cut off and forced to pay an additional dollar to renew the service. The city has announced that all water bills must be paid by this date or they will start cutting them off.

Under the ruling of the public service commission the city has the right to collect another dollar after the water bill is paid if the consumer thus cut off wants back on. This will be followed out to the letter. The water bills were originally due the tenth of the month, but as this is the first time the new ruling has been out in force the city decided to grant a slight extension of time. This will not be done hereafter.

Days Pickings

The burns are not expected to prove serious, although quite painful.

He has cut enough hair to make eleven mattresses and to pad 43,562 crutches. He would like to add Charles E. Hughes to his list. When a friend heard that Curtis had shaved so many, he remarked that he didn't see how one man could talk so much.

A REMARKABLE STATEMENT

Mrs. Sheldon Spent $1900 for Treatment Without Benefit. Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Englewood, Ill. — "While going through the Change of Life I suffered with headaches, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing at times. I spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called at my house and said she had been as sick as I was at one time, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well, so I took it and now I am just as well as I ever was. I cannot understand why women don't see how much pain and suffering they would escape by taking your medicine. I cannot praise it enough for it saved my life and kept me from the Insane Hospital." — Mrs. E. SHELDON, 6667 S. Halsted St., Englewood, Ill.

Physicians undoubtedly did their best, battled with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

Monday, July 17, 1916

By 1919.

Spurred on by the pressure of Republican Senators and alarmed by the situation which actually confronts the country the Rip Van Winkles of the Democratic party have waked up. Josephus Daniels is assuring Congress that he wants more ships—and speedily. The press agents of the administration have burst into print to tell the nation that our navy will most likely be able probably to count sixteen new capital ships for its fleet by 1919.

This date arouses some suggestive comment. The European war began two years ago. Its lessons for us were as evident and as pertinent then as they are now. The administration and Congress were urged to profit thereby. The President spurned this counsel with ironic language. Congress was even more caustic in its refusal.

Yet if Mr. Wilson and Mr. Daniels had taken action in 1914 as they are preparing to take it now, we could look forward to having those sixteen new capital ships in 1917 instead of in 1919. In 1919 it might be too late.

The one feature of the Mexican trouble that Americans cannot overlook is that by his policy President Wilson has enabled the Mexicans—both defacto rulers and bandits—to secure the arms and ammunition with which they have slaughtered citizens of the United States. Although Villa had a notorious record as a murderer, outlaw and ex-convict, he was for a time a favorite of the administration, and his forces were permitted to secure arms and munitions in this country. It is everywhere recognized that if the embargo on arms had been consistently maintained, the Mexican situation would be much better and many American lives would have been saved, and much property preserved from destruction. No amount of sophistry can conceal or evade the facts.

It is surprising how quickly a person can lose interest in a subject that has been uppermost in their minds for a year or more. Since the European war commenced it has been the one great topic of conversation and speculation the world over. Now, so far as we of the United States are concerned, it is a back number, shoved off the map, practically forgotten. Our little clothes line affair with Mexico is the all absorbing object before the public eye and in the public mind, and just at this time a sick mule on the border is of more importance to us than the outcome of any of the innumerable clashes across the water. Patriotism should and does begin at home.

Have you noticed the peculiarities beneath the surface in the mobilization of the National Guard of the United States and its dispatch to the border? Serving in the ranks of the organizations are millionaires from the highest social and financial families. In the same commands are janitors, farmers, clerks, and common laborers, all good men and true. Each is serving his country to the best of his ability, but the most noticeable feature is the fact that social caste is utterly unknown. The millionaire and the laborer groom their horses or dig ditches side by side and joke as though they had been fast friends all of their lives. They are comrades in a common cause, and as comrades they think, act and do.

Some fellows are always looking around to see whether the other fellows are working or not. And that is why the boss is always watching them.

It is true, nevertheless, that a fellow can get down on his knees in the street, paw up the dirt, and every wise man in sight will rush over to see what's in the wind.

They say that some facts are stranger than fiction. But when a modern male wants to worry his noodle over just plain facts—

The man who earns his wage invariably finds a wage waiting to be earned.

There are times, though, when our wise men are just as foolish as the rest of us.

Boost the fellow who boost for good roads. He deserves it, and the roads need it.

LIKE A MENAGERIE

London, July 17—A look at the late Lord Kitchener's Coat-of-Arms today disclosed that it sported a regular menagerie including an elephant, a camel, a gun, a stag, an eagle, a lion and three bustards, all denizens of countries in which K. of K. had served his king.

Current Comments

Can't Overlook Tariff.
(Norwich, Conn. Bulletin.)

Just how much attention the tariff will get in the coming presidential campaign remains to be seen. It may for the time being be overshadowed by the question of preparedness, but it is a matter nevertheless which cannot be overlooked. It is of vital importance to the country that the false position in which the Underwood bill is made to stand be unmasked.

The fact that industries are rushed with business and labor employed at wages higher than ever before does not mean that such has been brought about by the democratic administration. Far from it.

It is well known what the situation was previous to the opening of the war. Business was in a slump and the country was facing a serious depletion of its revenue because of the tariff slashing that had been done. Today optimism prevails but it is because the war has temporarily made up for the situation which the free trade policy projected. Business is good but there are many lines of business which would be increased or built up provided there was legislation that would encourage them and insure them a chance to live after the European conflict is over. Business which is based upon the war is good today and gone tomorrow. It is as uncertain as the weather and tariff consideration cannot be neglected because of it.

This country does not want to be forced to meet federal taxation forever and it does not want to go back to the uncertainty created by the Underwood bill just previous to the war, and yet that is certain unless there is a readjustment of the tariff such as the republican party has stood for in the past stands for today.

TWO WILSONS—1894-1916

Washington, July 17 (Special correspondence)—It was a sultry day in the month of August, 1894. Pages were running helter-skelter through the aisles of the floor of the House. The galleries were crowded with spectators, and as this was at a time before Woodrow Wilson discovered that an "insidious lobbyist" was one who argued for protection before the Committees of Congress, the corridors were filled with men who held a brief for some commercial interest. Representatives were perspiring freely, their collars wilted, their throats husky. There was the usual rumble of voices, interrupted frequently by the gavel of Speaker Charles F. Crisp.

At length the gavel pounded hard for order. The House quieted down so that a pin might have been heard to drop. The tensest moment in many weary months had approached. The 53rd Congress, in the last round of a grueling contest was about to vote on the tariff act of 1894, familiarly known as the Wilson bill. The Yeas and Nays were ordered, and the conference report was adopted. The bill was ready for the signature of Grover Cleveland—a bill he refused to sign, but which became a law by virtue of the ten-day Constitutional limitation.

Immediately upon the announcement of the vote, which placed on the statute books of this country for three years a piece of tariff legislation second only to the Underwood law for viciousness, pandemonium broke loose on the floor. William Jennings Bryan was then a Congressman from Lincoln, Nebraska. He had fought throughout for free trade; he was uncompromisingly for free wool, and free wool was the sop thrown to him. While the cheering and hand-clapping and stamping were at their height, Bryan, leading several others jumped over the seats, and the hero of a transcendent hour, William L. Wilson, of West Virginia, was carried out on the shoulders of four brother tariff wreckers. The tumult became deafening, when up rose one Thomas B. Reed later to be heard from as the great reorganizer of the rules of the House, and with that voice that would have overtopped the din of Verdun, he bellowed, "The country will carry him out in November."

What a prophecy! Glance over the lists of the Members of the 54th Congress and the name of William L. Wilson will nowhere be found. That Congress was overwhelmingly Republican, and, during the 55th Congress William McKinley presided over the destinies of this Nation, Thomas B. Reed put in force the celebrated Reed Rules, and Nelson Dingley of Maine, brought before Congress a tariff law which made the United States the most prosperous, 1916, the country will carry nation in the world. And in November another tariff wrecker. And his name, likewise, is Wilson.

A. M. Younger, retired farmer, 828 W 10th street, Rushville, says: "I have been using Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for about ten years and they have done me good. When a man gets as old as I, he is bound to have more or less trouble with the kidneys. At times I have a dull ache across the small of my back and it gets weak and lame. Then the kidney secretions are too frequent in passage, causing me to get up at night. Every time I have procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Johnson's Drug Store, and they never fail to relieve me in a short time."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. ## CITIZENS ALL HELP RUSSIA

City Men, Farmers, the Landed Gentry and Villages Are All Solid Block For Country.

INDUSTRY IS MOBILIZED
Is Not Confined to Army. But is Taking Care of Thousands of Children There.

BY WILLIAM PHILLIPS SIMS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
Petrograd, June 17—(By Mail)—City men and farmers, the landed gentry and villages are today a solid block in Russia and under the name of "The Central Committee" are working might and main to support the army and the country generally.

The organization composed of landed gentry, peasants and village property-owners is called the All-Russian Zemstvo Union. I told of this in the Republican of July 15.

But the towns and cities of Russia have also organized themselves into a volunteer salaryless citizens' group to assist the government wage war, their name being the All-Russian Municipality Union. And it is this group which, with the All-Russian Zemstvo Union, completes the Central Committee.

The Central Committee whose members serve absolutely without pay, sits Sundays and week-days in Petrograd, acting as a co-ordinating body, centralizing the work of the citizens of the whole Empire.

So far as I can find out this Committee, and these two great All-Russian Unions combined in it, have no counterpart anywhere in Europe or in the world.

In France the people are heart and soul with the government in their determination to fight the war to victory cost what it may. In that country all sorts of organizations abound, providing hospitals, ambulances, refugee homes, feeding stations and the like. There is no end to their labors. But the government feeds, clothes, and equips its army through Commissions who deal with industrial corporations principally, if not entirely.

In England it is the same. Lloyd George, upon assuming the post of Minister of Munitions chose as his battle-cries the Mobilization of Industry, which meant that the industrial plants of the land should be organized to produce munitions and other needs for the British Army.

In Russia the difference is vast. Russia is an agricultural nation. Manufacturing corporations are few compared to England's vast enterprises, or to those of France or Germany. Russia is 80 per cent peasant.

So the peasants got together with land-owners and villagers, forming the All-Russian Zemstvo Union. And the towns-people and city dwellers got together in the All-Russian together in a Central Committee—a Municipality Union, the two getting volunteer citizen organization, not of manufacturers, not of commercial kings, but of rich people, poor people, gentry and peasants—offering their services gratis to the land.

There is, however, in Russia, an organization resembling Lloyd George's mustering of English industry is called the War Industry Committee and is of considerable importance.

Prior to six years ago there was no industrial group in Russia every man for himself. But with the coming of the Douma, the Russian Congress, they felt the need of an organization which would look out for their joint interests in possible legislation to come. Also a new commercial treaty with Germany was to be negotiated in 1914 and here again Russian industry wished to make herself heard.

So about 1910 a "Congress of Representatives of Trade and Commerce" met and organized themselves into what corresponds to American merchants' and manufacturers' associations, the object of which was to look out the mutual interests of its members.

Last year this group of men, taking the tip from Lloyd George in England, and seeing the necessity of giving aid to the army particularly as regards munitions and kindred military needs, formed the War Industry Committee. This body of men today is giving great help to the Russian government. This is the organization similar to those in England and France. But the Zemstvo and Municipality Unions, with their Central Committee, are in themselves unique—as is the Co-operative movement of Russia with its nearly a hundred million adherents scattered from the Baltic across the frozen steppes of Siberia to the Pacific, from the White Sea to the Black.

The city of Moscow began the Municipality Union after the big Russian retreat. Mayor Chelnokov, the tremendously alive head of the Municipal Council of Russia's second capital, issued invitations to the other cities and large towns of the Empire to join in a city dweller's organization similar to the Zemstvo or rural one, and they all responded.

Like the Zemstvo, the Municipality Union said to the Russian government: "Here we are! Use us!"

It was soon seen that as the two unions were doing practically the same work, much overlapping might be obviated and more effective work accomplished if a merger could be effected.

So the Central Committee of the All-Russian Zemstvo and Municipality Unions was formed about the first of July, 1915.

The Committee's work has been phenomenal. It has supplied the army, at the army's request, with munitions, muniton boxes, daggers, spades, hatchets, snippers to cut barbed-wire, stoves, axels, wearing apparel, barbed-wire, hospital supplies, and scores of other things.

In England and France and Russia the War Industry organizations work for profit as well as for patriotic motives. In Russia the most important organization by far are purely citizen ones and these work without profit to themselves.

They demand but one thing and that is to serve. Nor do they ever offer excuses by saying this or that is not their kind of work. On one occasion they lent the army 300,000 laborers to dig trenches and fed these workers while they dug. On another they mobilized civilians to build military bridges.

If the Army Commissary asked the Committee for supplies, the Commissary got them, whatever their nature. In January of this year it put in a demand for 24,000,000 articles of clothing and the Committee, after consulting the Zemstvo and municipality Unions, said all right, the Commissary should have them.

The work of the 3 citizens Committee is not confined to the army. It has opened innumerable creches taking care of tens of thousands of children, fed seven to eight million refugees, housed the homeless. And all for Russia.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES START

Light Harness Events Get Under Way at Cleveland Today—Good Year Promised.

MANY PROMISING HORSES

Over 2,500 Entered in the Ten Cities in Circuit and Purses Total $400,000.

Cleveland, O., July 17.—With the promise of more sensational speed and a greater number of dazzling contests than any previous racing season has produced, the grand circuit light harness events started here today.

More than 2,500 horses are booked to run during the three months of racing on the ten tracks throughout the middle west.

The total money offered by the circuit members exceed $400,000. Five futurity events, worth $40,000, will be decided at the grand circuit meetings here and at Detroit, July 24-29; Kalamazoo, July 31-Aug. 5; Grand Rapids, Aug. 7-12; Columbus, Aug. 14-19; here Aug. 21-26; Poughkeepsie, Aug. 28-Sept. 1; Hartford, Sept. 4-9; Syracuse, Sept. 14-19; Columbus, Sept. 18-30; Lexington, Oct. 2-14 and Atlanta, Oct. 16-21.

Ordinary purses have been increased from the usual $1,000 to $1,200 and $1,500.

"Never in the history of harness racing have so many great horses been in sight," said President Harry K. Deyeraux of the circuit today. "I expect the 1916 season to be the best in the circuit's history."

Driver Billy Andrews of the Big Six is ill and probably will not be seen in a sulky this season. Ben White will replace Andrews. The other standbys: "Pop" Geers, Billy Snow, Lou McDonald, Charley Valentine and Tommy Murphy, will be here O. K.

There are two new tracks on the circuit this season. Poughkeepsie takes the place of the Empire City track near New York and Atlanta was taken into the circuit when Montreal was dropped last summer because the war's restriction of racing in Canada to three days a week made the Montreal track unprofitable. Columbus took one Montreal week.

HINER-STUMPF

At three o'clock this afternoon a beautiful home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Hiner when their daughter, Miss Edith Hiner, was joined in marriage to Edward Stumpf of Cleveland. Dr. D. Ira Lambert performed the ceremony, the simple ring service being used. Bouquets of lovely pink roses were the only decoration used in the rooms where the very few friends and relatives gathered.

The bride never looked more attractive than she did this afternoon, with a dark blue pussy willow taffet suit with a champagne embroidered sailor collar. She wore champagne gloves and shoes to match, a lovely white Georgette blouse trimmed with champagne, and the costume was completed with a blue silk sailor hat. Her corsage bouquet was of pink rose buds.

After graduating from the local high school, she attended normal school at Terre Haute and Marion, and has also studied at Winona. Of the eleven years that she has taught school, nine years have been spent in the Havens school of this city where she taught the second grade. Her teaching ability which is a well known fact and her activities in the social affairs of the city have made a host of friends for the bride of today.

Mr. Stumpf travels for a well known hardware firm in Cleveland, where he and his bride will make their future home. They left this evening for their new home by way of Cincinnati and Columbus Ohio, where they will make short stops.

Among the few guests who attended the wedding were Miss Carrie Bowers of Indianapolis, Miss Alma Taylor of Chouteau, Oklahoma, who is spending the summer at Winona Lake, and Mrs. Margaret Morton and son, Earl of Milroy, who are also spending the summer at Winona Lake.

CENTENNIAL NEWS LETTER

The much anticipated Centennial Memorial Medal, designed by Janet Scudder, is at hand, the first medal to be cast having been received. Done in delicate low-relief, the medal shows on one face an allegorical representation of "The Admission of Indiana to the Union"—Columbia welcoming Indiana as a State—while small, yet clearly modeled and forming part of the design, are to be seen the quaint first State House and the Constitutional Elm, both still standing at Corydon. On the other face is the familiar Indiana State Seal, but improved and made more artistic under the refining touch of Miss Scudder's skilled fingers. The medal committee and the Commission are delighted with the medal.

There will be an immediate issue of 918 numbered proof medals, having the personal signature of Governor Ralston, and enclosed in a handsome book containing descriptive articles on the Centennial and the development of the State. The plan of allotment is to have nine of these medals sold by each member of the Commission and nine sold in each county of the State, through the County Centennial Chairman. The price of this autographed copy is five dollars. There will be a general issue of the medal alone at one dollar each.

The colors are white, oyster, pink, sky, copen, navy, rose, green, lavender, natural, and white trimmed with the various pastel shades. You can wear one all summer, and then it will be excellent for college or high school wear. If you are a teacher, your wardrobe demands one. We have sold dozens of these suits for $12.50, and the reason we can quote such a price is that we took all that a manufacturer had. About 40 of them to choose from.

County girl, Mrs. Kate Milner Rabb of Indianapolis, and many of the pageant actors were descendants of the historical characters portrayed. The representation of the Spirit of the Ohio river and the water nymphs, bordering the lake on the pageant grounds, together with the colorful portrayal of the spirits of the field and flowers, was most beautiful and effective. An excellent chorus, drilled by Miss May Posey, contributed much to the success of the pageant. The tone of the whole celebration was excellent, reflecting great credit upon Chairman W. W. Kellams and his committee. Much commendation goes to Mrs. Helen Baumgaertner for her effective efforts in getting Centennial plans started in Spencer County.

Fayette County

It took three full days for little Fayette County to do itself justice in observing the Centennial. E. P. Hawkins was the man of the hour, as county chairman, he having instilled the enthusiasm and effected the organization that put the celebration across. Aside from the features which other counties have had, Fayette County had some that were more or less distinctive. The relief exhibit was excellent, and distributing it in the show windows in the main business street of Connersville proved highly satisfactory. The presentation arrangement of the pageant, written and directed by Miss Harriet Williams, was unique. On the hillside appeared the interior of a cabin, wherein the settlers' scenes were made effective through the playing of the flood and spot light. The mass scenes took place immediately before the immense audience. The Fayette Miss Indiana was the first to have a birthday cake, with one hundred candles burning. Various features of pioneer life were graphically represented. This county, furthermore, did much in the way of permanent memorials. The Clio Club presented a fountain

Johnson County

A home made, home produced pageant of Johnson County was given by the several townships on the Franklin College campus, in which the history of the county was told in four episodes. It was very largely attended and hailed as the most elaborate historic production ever attempted in Johnson County. Chief credit belongs to Miss Jeanette Zepf of the Franklin College Faculty who arranged the pageant and who was assisted by Miss Hazel Abbott, Miss Florence Johnson and Mr. Dana Cather.

LOCAL PAGEANTS

Irvington, under the leadership of George S. Cottman, put on a beautiful Centennial pageant, in Ellengreger Park, portraying the beginnings of Irvington on a background of State History.

The Culver Summer School presented a pageant depicting Indian life and the legends of Lake Maxinkuckee. The Black Horse troop presented the removal of the Indians by Gen. JOHN TIPTON.

SUBMARINE LIFE IS NOT HEALTHY

Interior of Undersea Boats Sweats
Like Pitcher of Ice Water on a Hot Day.

MEN FACE IMPAIRED HEALTH

Never Really Sleep But Merely
Lapse From Sheer Exhaustion
to Semi-Consciousness.

The chance of being sent to a watery grave by a shell from an enemy craft or of dying in a submarine caught in an enemy net are not the only dangers of life in a submersible.

Men on submarines face the danger from tuberculosis and pneumonia. The chances for death, from many causes is so great naval officials of most governments warn men who are married or have other dependents not to take positions on submersible boats.

The interior of a submarine sweats like a pitcher of ice water. After a man is inside a submarine an hour his clothes are wet all the way through. The men wear as many clothes as possible and sometimes put on life preservers for extra warmth.

During raids in the European war, when submersibles were compelled to stay under water long periods, sailors have been known to lose much weight, 20 pounds in some cases. The weakened condition of the men brings on tuberculosis.

Physicians say men on submarines never really sleep, but merely lapse from exhaustion into a state of semi-consciousness for several hours. It is said bad air, the smell of machinery, the vibration and the strain make natural sleep impossible.

Besides these things, men on submarines are liable to what is called the worst sickness in the world—submarine seasickness. The movement of submersibles in storms is frightful, as the boats are sealed up tight and the closeness of the air is said to be enough to cause death.

Few submarines have beds. The men simply lie down where they can. There can not be any cooking on submarines and the men live mainly on biscuits and canned meats.

The sailors are compelled to be economical with water when down low in enemy territory, although there are thousands of gallons of water all around them. In enemy territory the boats can not go to the surface to take on water.

There cannot be any artificial heat in a submarine so the interior of the boat is always the temperature of the water or air outside. If the water or air outside is around zero, the men on the submarine live in zero atmosphere.

The sailors are not allowed to smoke.

Some experts say that in a war where submarines are compelled to go on raids into enemy territory and stay under water long periods, tuberculosis will cause more deaths than the enemy.

OHIO GUARD HAS BALLOON

Akron, O., July 17.—The Ohio National Guard today is the only state militia organization equipped with an observation balloon ready for Mexican service. The artillery contingent, commanded by Major Harold M. Bush, has been presented a $100,000 balloon, the only one of its kind in the United States for observation purposes. The War Department has ordered several like it for the regular army. The balloon, presented by an Ohio rubber company, is handled by Battery B.

GERMANS ASK TO BE KILLED

OFFICER CONSENTED TO ACT

Dozen Wounded Soldiers All Begged to be Put Out of Misery—Fought With Zouaves.

(By United Press.)
Winchester, Mass., July 17.—John Sheehan, Harvard '11, back from the Verdun front with a medal of honor for courageous work as an ambulance driver in the American legion, today told the United Press this story of the battlefield as it was related to him by a French captain of Zouaves who lay mortally wounded in a base hospital:

Following one of the terrific charges by the Boches up a shell swept slope held by the French, the field was strewn with dead and dying. Incessant artillery fire for three days before the final charge had pitted the hillside with huge shell-craters and had driven the French first line infantry back to the crest of the knoll.

Then came the Germans, pouring out of their network of trenches, stumbling up the steep slopes and going down before the rifle fire of the French zouaves. Three times the Boches attempted to gain the crest, and each time were mowed down by a hail of lead, falling back to their lines in scattered groups.

When night came on and the German charge had been stayed, No Man's Land, between the French lines on the top of the hill and the Germans' position on the plain below was piled high with dead and wounded; and the huge holes torn by the German shells were filled nearly level full with bodies.

Captain X had been in command of one of the first line trenches and his company had fallen back just before the charge, leaving many wounded behind. Among the latter was a lieutenant, a brother-in-law of the captain's, with whom he had taken the oath of allegiance when their company was called to the colors.

Calling to a gigantic Zouave, known as the bravest man in his company, the captain told him he intended creeping down the bloody slope under cover of darkness in the hope that he might rescue his comrade and asked the man to accompany him.

As they made their way down, inch by inch, for incendiary shells screaming overhead lit up the sky from time to time, making them clear targets for the German guns, the Captain and his man passed hundreds of moaning, dying comrades and Germans; and their companions were nearly empty when they reached the trench they had once held.

There, nearly dead from thirst and wounds, they found the lieutenant, half way up the side of a great hole torn by a 16-inch shell. In the darkness the Captain's flashlight lit up the crater with ghastly effect and he hastened to pass his comrade up to the Zouave, dimming his eyes to the groans of the wounded all about him. As he himself started to ascend the slope a hand clutched his ankle and a voice in German begged:

"Kill us, kill us!"

Turning his flashlight toward the crater's bottom, Captain X saw there more than a dozen frightened wounded Germans, gasping for water and several already dead from their sufferings.

Trying to draw away, he answered the German captain who had called to him, saying that he did not wish to kill them, that he could not do it in cold blood.

Then the Tendon Captain, his right arm hanging in shreds, clung to him in desperation. He must kill them, in God's mercy he must. The lieutenant, which they lay was not exposed to the fire of the combatants, but the Germans would never again attempt the desperate charge in which they had lost so many the afternoon before, and the French could not move

LARGE CHORUS TO LEAD CONVENTION

1000 Voices Will Sing at Prohibition National Meeting When it Opens Tomorrow.

WILL SING SPECIAL SONG

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, Minn., July 17.—A chorus of 1,000 voices, not one of which ever raised its clarion tone to the strains of "Hail, Hail, The Gangs All Here," will lead the Prohibitionists' National Convention in song when it opens here tomorrow.

More than twenty thousand song books of the convention have been scattered throughout the country and prohibitionists from every state have learned the list. Hundreds of auto parties are on their way into the city today from so far as 3,000 miles distant, holding impromptu prohibition song services along the route.

The chorus will be led by Rollin M. Bease of St. Paul who, though now a professional singer, has been law clerk, miner, tramp, rancher, musician and builder. He wrote many of the convention songs.

Among the songs are such as these: "Our Nation's Going Dry," "Cashing My Check," "Down in the Licensed Saloon" and several dozen more like that.

HEAR ARGUMENT FOR NEW TRIAL

Six Judges Will Decide Whether Sir Roger Casement Will Get Another Hearing.

EARLY DECISION EXPECTED

(By United Press.)

London, July 17.—Six black robed judges are sitting here today to hear Sir Roger Casement's appeal for a new trial. Should the judges rule that Sir Roger's convention on the charge of giving aid and comfort to England's enemies by stirring up the Irish rebellion was just, the Irishman must hang. Sir Roger, one of the most brilliant men ever in the King's service, whose work among the colonies brought him a title and the royal favor, recently was found guilty of high treason. His defense was that he was working in the interest of Ireland's sovereignty, but not against England.

Although a statement has been communicated from the American government, through Ambassador Page, informing the British government that much interest is taken in the disposition of Sir Roger's case, nothing more nearly approaching a formal appeal of clemency could with diplomatic propriety be vouchsafed. The judges may not announce their decision today.

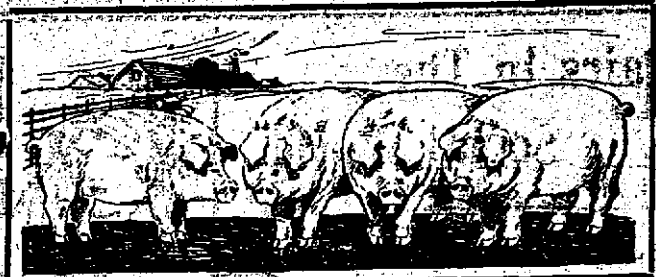

from their inapprehensible position. It meant that he and all his men would lie there until they died from thirst of their wounds.

Captain X mopped the clammy sweat from his brow and thought of the awful torture these men, enemies though they were, must endure, and then, deciding instantly, ordered his man to carry the lieutenant on his back to the French lines and return with as many hand grenades as he could carry. For nearly an hour he lay beside the top of the crater, with only the occasional scream of a shell over head to drown out the groans of the Germans.

Then the Zouave returned, and with a muttered prayer they threw the grenades down into the heap of Germans until the last cries were

You're Raising Hogs for a Real Profit

There are many conditions which govern the success of raising hogs. The first problem is securing the proper kind of feed. Our Corn Germ Meal (Hominy Hearts) is the most beneficial feed that can be fed to hogs. The hominy hearts are the heart or germ of the corn grain, separated without the use of chemicals or other substances.

Corn Germ Meal

contains all the minerals needed for bone building, an abundance of protein to insure flesh production and sufficient fat and carbohydrate to supply heat and energy. A hog must get all of these elements of food in a palatable and digestible form. This feed is equally as good for young pigs as for the older hogs.

THE FERTILIZER VALUE of this feed is valued at approximately $30 per ton. Certainly every farmer who is desirous to increase the fertility of the soil on his farm, is aware that the by-products from his barn-yard are invaluable to him.

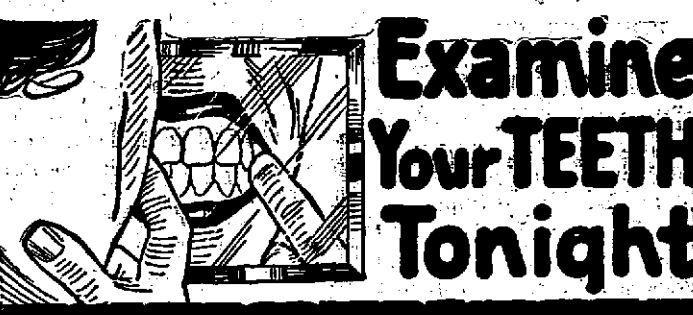

CORN GERM MEAL (both white and yellow) is exceedingly rich in protein and fat. The white meal is made from white corn—hence its name—but is yellow in color, the same as regular yellow Corn Germ Meal. The white meal has 19 per cent. protein and 7 per cent. fat—while the yellow runs 18 per cent. protein and about 8 per cent. fat. Common hominy meal usually has about 8 per cent. fat and only 9 per cent. protein. You can, therefore, easily understand why Corn Germ Meal is far superior in every way to the common feeds.

Current Market Price is Now $28.50 per ton or $1.50 per 100 pound sack.

We are specialists on dairy and live stock feeds, poultry and field seed; we are responsible and our guarantee carries with it a tangible value. Send in your order today—same will have our immediate attention.

OUR NEW WARE HOUSE, which is now under construction will be the largest fire-proof feed ware house in the state, owned and occupied by one firm. It is located adjacent to the Illinois Central Railroad Terminal. The increase of space will enable us to carry a much larger stock and several feeds which we do not now handle.

Examine Your TEETH Tonight

—after you clean them.

You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. YOUR DENTIFRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one of two conditions—Pyorrhea or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of a dental specialist, is two-fold in its action. First, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Second, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Yet it is perfectly safe, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit.

Avoid Pyorrhea and decay. Get Senreco from your dealer today. In large tubes, 25c. Send 4c to Senreco, 304 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

PREPARE FOR CARNIVAL

Young Men of Catholic Church
Clear Park For Annual Event.

Extensive preparation is being made for the carnival to be held by the men of St. Mary's Catholic church, July 25-29. The ground is being cleared and the different stands are being erected. An abundance of light will be on the grounds since workmen are stretching the wires through the various trees. The park is beautifully adapted for the staging of a carnival, with its well graded walks and commodious grass plots. The shows will be held in the old church hall, with an entire change of program each evening. This year a different troop will perform each evening.

ELIZABETH SNYDER TO BE BURIED HERE

Body of Former Rushville Woman,
Who Died Suddenly at Liberty
Sunday, to Arrive Tuesday

ONCE WAS DEPUTY RECORDER

Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder, formerly of this city, died suddenly at her home in Liberty Sunday morning, according to word received by relatives here today. It was not known here that she had been sick and the news of her demise was a deep shock.

Mrs. Snyder was about fifty years old and was the wife of Dr. Snyder, a Liberty veterinarian, who at one time lived in Rushville. Mrs. Snyder was the oldest child of the late Mr. and Mrs. George W. Guire of this city and was deputy county recorder of Rush county under Charles Nixon. It has not been long since Mrs. Snyder was visiting here.

She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Corinne, a brother, Jesse W. Guire of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Owen Cowing of Brookville and Mrs. Timothy Welsh of Richmond. The funeral will be held at the late residence in Liberty this evening and the body will be brought here tomorrow morning at 10:51 over the C. I. & W. and taken directly to East Hill cemetery for burial.

"NEWS" SHOULD NOT BE COLORED

this I do not mean that it is necessary for the party press to uphold them acts of an incompetent officer or defend an administration for all of its acts. There are certain great principles that the political parties believe in and the party press can believe in these without having to defend the acts of any one man or a group of men."

In closing Mr. Watson urged that the press, in its news articles tell the truth without "color," and if the editor differs with a man, then confine the discussion to the proper page.

The City Editors were guests of the Richmond Palladium. The meeting was the best ever held by the association. The visitors were treated to a chicken dinner Sunday noon at the Cliff Dale Auto Club and the business session were held in the Commercial Club rooms.

Rudolph Leeds, the owner of the Palladium, presided at the afternoon meeting and introduced Mr. Watson. He delivered a brief address following Mr. Watson. Mr. Leeds agrees with Mr. Watson that a paper should not use the so-called editorial-news stories. He took the position that competition alone in the newspaper business is responsible for changed position in the policy of papers and the completion was gradually working for the good of all papers. Mr. Watson and Mr. Leeds were made honorary members of the association.

good fair and you'd make a lot of money."

"You go over there and see Col. Kiplinger, he's running this shabang," said Mr. Riggs as he directed the Osgooder over to John Kiplinger.

"We are packing tonight for a long jump to Pennsylvania," said the "colonel," thinking he would get rid of the gentleman who had the Osgood fair so close to his heart.

Some "telegrams" that caused a lot of merriment were received by Fon Riggs. One came from Connersville, signed by some steen thousand residents of that place in the far east. The message earnestly beseeched the Elks fair to move over to Connersville this week because, the telegram continued, the fair at Rushville the last four days of last week had taken all of the people out of Connersville and had made business very dull. It expressed some sarcasm, that message did, when it said something about Connersville people just "swarming" to the Elks fair at Rushville.

The alleged telegram closed with an offer from the many thousands of Connersville citizens to pay admissions to the Elks attractions with berries, the current coin of the realm in the Fayette county hills since business was so dull last week, due to the fair here.

WILL MEET AT NEWCASTLE

Next Gathering of District Business
Men Set For August 2.

The next district meeting of the business men's associations of this section of the state will be held at Newcastle Wednesday, August 2, it has been announced. The last session of the district association was at Shelbyville on June 14, when there were several hundred visitors. A large delegation went from Rushville in automobiles. The initial or get-together meeting of the business men of this part of the state was held here last spring. It is very likely Rushville will be as well if not better represented at Newcastle than she was at Shelbyville.
